Job sheet

Print it. Take it with you. Fill it in with a pen.

How to use this sheet

Print one for every job. Write on it as you go, not from memory on Sunday night. Get it signed before you drive off. Then take a photo of it and send it in the same day.

Four things, every job, every time.

JOB NUMBER	DATE	DAY

CUSTOMER	SITE ADDRESS

WHO YOU ARE MEETING ON SITE	THEIR MOBILE

What needs doing

WRITE IT IN YOUR OWN WORDS. ONE LINE PER JOB.

Who was on site, and for how long

NAME	START	BREAK	FINISH	HOURS

Extra work — do not start it until someone says yes

> No name, no payment
>
> If you do work that is not on the sheet above, write it here and write the name of the person who told you to do it. Without a name it is your word against theirs in three months.

WHAT THE EXTRA WORK WAS	WHO TOLD YOU TO DO IT	WHEN THEY SAID IT

Materials and plant used on this job

WHAT	HOW MUCH	WHOSE IT WAS — OURS OR HIRED IN

Before you leave site

TICK	CHECK
[ ]	Photos taken of the work, before and after
[ ]	Site left clean and safe. Nothing left in the road.
[ ]	Everything hired in is accounted for
[ ]	This sheet is filled in, top to bottom
[ ]	This sheet is signed below
[ ]	Photo of this sheet sent to the office

Signed off on site

CUSTOMER SIGNATURE	PRINT NAME	DATE

OUR SIGNATURE	PRINT NAME	DATE

Anything to come back for

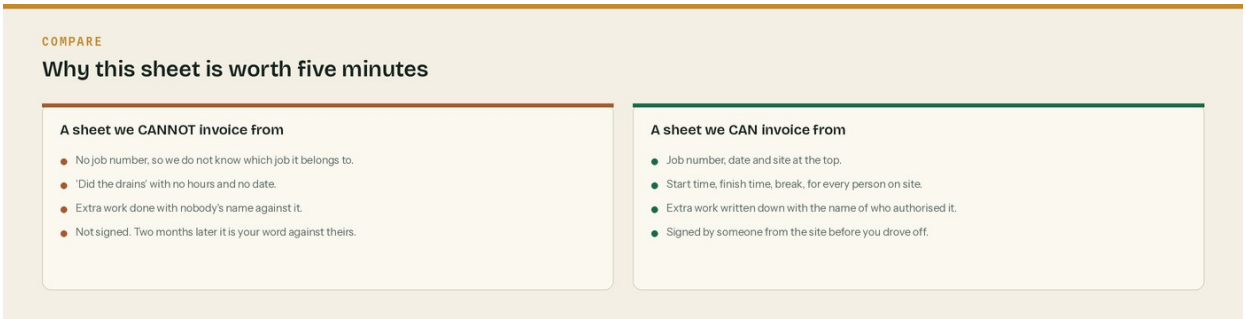

WHAT IS LEFT, AND ROUGHLY WHEN

Sketch or notes

Draw it if it is easier than writing it. Levels, runs, chamber positions, where the obstruction was.

ANYTHING ELSE WORTH HAVING A RECORD OF

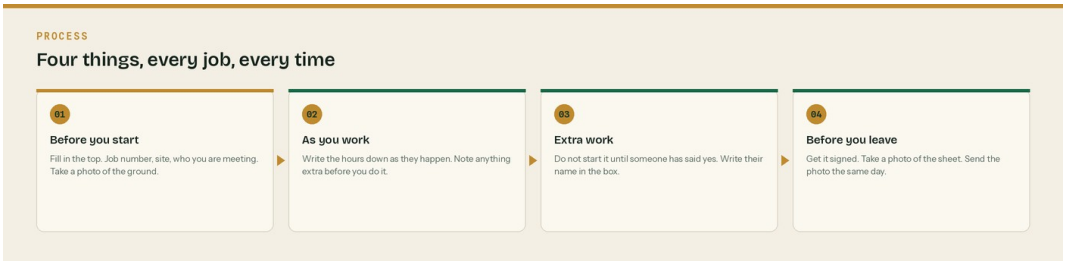

Why this sheet is worth five minutes

The left hand sheet costs you money. Every time.

Four reasons to fill it in before you drive off.

And the four steps once more.

The sheet is where the invoice comes from

Hours on the sheet become hours on the invoice. If the hours are not written down, they get guessed, and a guess is always lower than the truth.

Extra work is where the money is

Variations are the most common thing a subcontractor does for nothing. Write it down, get a name against it, and it gets paid.

Materials and plant belong on here too

What you paid for yourself stays out of the CIS deduction. What you hired in from a third party stays out as well. The sheet is the first place that split gets recorded.

A photograph beats a bit of paper

Paper falls out of vans and goes through the wash. Photograph the sheet before you drive off and send it in the same day. The photo is the record.

Keep it for six years

A limited company must keep its records six years from the end of the last company financial year they relate to. Photograph it into the app and that looks after itself.

WHERE THIS COMES FROM

Checked against gov.uk on Wednesday 26 August 2026. If a rate changes, the wording stays the same and only the number moves.

- Keeping company and accounting records — `https://www.gov.uk/running-a-limited-company/company-and-accounting-records`
- What comes out before the CIS deduction (CIS 340) — `https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/construction-industry-scheme-cis-340/construction-industry-scheme-a-guide-for-contractors-and-subcontractors-cis-340`
- Approved mileage rates, if you claim travel off this sheet — `https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/rates-and-allowances-travel-mileage-and-fuel-allowances/travel-mileage-and-fuel-rates-and-allowances`